

TURN YOUR CARING NATURE
INTO A REWARDING CAREER

Medication Aide (CMA)

[HEALTH OCCUPATIONS]

Caring for others and their well-being is central to what a certified medication aide is all about! A CMA typically works in a long-term care facility, administering medication and treatments to patients in a safe and prescribed manner. CMA is often a prerequisite for advanced training, allowing you to climb the healthcare ladder.

LEARNING AT WASHBURN TECH

The medication aide (CMA) course introduces the basic concepts of medication administration including drug classifications, drug action and nursing implications for specific drugs. You will gain hands-on experience by working in a clinical setting. High school seniors, who are at least 18 years old, as well as adult students are eligible to enroll in this five-credit-hour course. Upon completion, you will be prepared to take the Medication Aide Certification exam from the Kansas Department of Aging and Disability Services. However, as stipulated by law, you must be 18 years of age to take the certification exam. Please note: this short-term course is not eligible for financial aid or commencement.

JOB AND SALARY OUTLOOK

Kansas Department of Labor expects demand for medication aides to grow by 8 percent between 2020 and 2030. According to KDOL, the average entry-level salary is $14.99 an hour or $31,190 annually. The average is $18.37 an hour or $38,210 annually.

ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

You must have a current Kansas CNA license to enroll. Students are required to take the Accuplacer assessment exam and score a 5 in both reading and math. Other assessments or college coursework can be accepted in place of Accuplacer. See an admissions counselor for details. You must complete an application, submit a copy of official transcripts as well as your social security number. Please ask an admissions counselor about the age requirement.
